Webinar
4:15 start

We are thrilled to invite Eric Lonergan to speak at our AGM on the economist's view of the turbulent world today. Aside from sharing his macro economic views to set a scene for where we are, he will also touch on the themes from his most recent book "Supercharge Me: Net Zero Faster" on the global economy's transition to net zero.

If you have any questions you would like to ask Eric please send them through ahead of time to: adrian.cooper@hubfs.co.uk or alternatively submit them in real time during the session via the v/c facility.

Biography

Eric Lonergan is a macro hedge fund manager, economist, and writer. He heads up research for the Macro & Multi Asset Investment Business at M&G Investments. Prior to M&G, he was a Managing Director and Head of Macro Research at JP Morgan Cazenove.

His other recent books include an international bestseller in political economy, Angrynomics, co-written with Mark Blyth. It was listed on the Financial Times list of must reads for Summer 2020. Prior to Angrynomics, he has written Money (2nd ed). He has written for Foreign Affairs, The Financial Times, and The Economist. He also advises governments and policymakers. He first advocated expanding the tools of central banks to including cash transfers to households in the Financial Times in 2002. In December 2008, he advocated the policy as the most efficient way out of recession post-financial crisis, contributing to a growing debate over the need for 'helicopter money'.

Eric is also a supporter of Big Issue Invest (BII), the investment arm of The Big Issue, and is one of the initial limited partners in BII's Social Enterprise Investment Fund LP. In a personal capacity, he makes direct investments in social enterprises. He also supports and advises The Empathy Museum.
